

Smoke watch 15.6.2010

Wed Jun 16, 2010 1:30 pm

The smoke stink made it hard for me to breathe from about lunch time onwards.

The pictures were taken at about 5.12 pm and a respirator mask was required to be worn to take them.

Blue smoke was flowing up through the valleys into Grindelwald long before, and while these pictures were being taken.

Looking out to the West

This shot is looking towards Grindelwald from Brady's Lookout. Visibility was down to 1 or 2 Km. It shows how dangerous this was for people to be breathing.

This shot overlooks Exeter. The pollution was extremely heavy.
