

Smoke Watch 9.7.2012

This is not river fog.

The Tamar Valley was blanketed with smoke.

It was really thick following the river right up into Launceston and beyond.

This photo was taken at 11.20am from Grindelwald.

The flues were not smoking; people were very active with their smoky backyard burning!

They just don't care. Obviously they could see the air was saturated with smoke.
