Dear Clive

In relation to your letter received today, we agree that it is not possible for Forestry Tasmania to advise you in regards to your ongoing health concerns. Information regarding the burn season is posted on our website and all measures to reduce smoke hazards will be undertaken as part of our ongoing smoke management protocol.

As you are no doubt aware, there are many players both within the forest industry and within the agricultural sector that conduct routine burn-offs as part of their land management practices and the need for such fuel reduction has been clearly illustrated through recent events.

Yours sincerely
